

SOLUTIONS SUSTAINABILITY

As regulatory pressures increase, and energy budgets are stretched, many organizations are faced with exploring new ways to meet their electricity and natural gas needs economically and reach sustainability objectives.

Mantis Innovation's expertise in clean energy strategies and consulting enables you to meet your organization's goals – and regulatory requirements – while building a more sustainable world.

We will meet you wherever you are on your journey toward sustainability

Every organization's needs are different, making it important to have a sustainable energy strategy designed for your industry, region, compliance requirements, and budget.

At Mantis, we begin by listening. Your goals are unique to your organization and will require a green energy strategy tailored to your needs, wants, and wishes. We then use data-driven insights to lower your overall energy costs, expand your access to energy alternatives, and manage long-term risks.

To help your organization achieve its goals, we engineer winning strategies with a mix of proven tactics:

- ▲ Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs)
- ▲ Power Purchase Agreements
- ▲ Energy Efficiency Upgrades
- ▲ Demand Response
- ▲ Green Power
- ▲ Peak Load Reduction
- ▲ On-Site Solar

Regardless of your industry, adopting sustainable business practices can improve your bottom line—in both the traditional and the environmental sense.

Realize impacts on all fronts

Reduce Energy Use

From updating to lower usage electricity products and appliances to using LED light bulbs, if you reduce energy waste, you will increase your business's efficiency, potentially save money on energy and contribute to overall sustainability.

Improve Public Health

Whether a byproduct of regulatory policy changes or by choice, sustainable businesses implement improvements that reduce emissions, improve air quality, and identify products that impact the health and well-being of the public.

Be an Innovator

Not long ago, sustainability did not include long-term fiscal success. Many industries lack companies that are sustainable in today's paradigm. We can empower you to become an inspiring voice of advocacy beyond the walls of your organization.

Attract Green-conscious Consumers

Improve public relations with your sustainable business by becoming attractive to Earth-conscious consumers and raising your brand's value in additional ways.
